

Lucian J. Hudson

Position: Partner and Managing Director

Education:

Oxford University, St Catherine's College
MA in Political, Philosophy and Economics

Professional Membership:

Member of the Institute of Directors

Years of Experience: 28

Fields of Experience:

Strategy and communication; advocacy and mediation; crisis management; change management

Countries worked in: Worked on assignments in more than 30 countries including UK, most of EU; USA, Canada and Mexico; India; China; Israel; UAE and Qatar.

Biographical Summary

With a distinguished career spanning BBC, ITV, the City, a dot.com, three British government departments including the Foreign and Commonwealth Office, and more than 30 international assignments, Lucian J. Hudson is a strategic consultant specialising in influencing, advocacy and brokering interests to drive business development. Author of a highly acclaimed report published last year by the British government, Lucian is a world authority on the scope and limits of collaboration and partnerships across private, public and non-profit sectors.

Previous positions include Director of Communications at the UK's Foreign Office, the UK government's first ever Director of e-Communications and Head of Programming/Chief Editorial Adviser at BBC Worldwide, the commercial arm of the BBC. He was instrumental in the launch and transformation of commercial channels, including BBC World and joint venture channels with Discovery and Alliance Atlantis.

Lucian worked with both the Dubai government and UAE government, on reviewing their communications strategies and also provided bespoke training to the UAE government's communications cadre. Lucian chairs the Collaborative Strategies Network, which researches collaborative techniques across the public, private and non-profit sectors. He is the author of the cutting edge report to the UK government: "The Enabling State: Collaborating for Success" (Download here <http://www.cstoneglobal.com/enablingstate>)

For further information about the consultancy services provided by Lucian J. Hudson, please contact contact@cstoneglobal.com